FROM CAMP LEE

Possibly some of the folks will be interested in what we are doing in Camp Lee.

I will not attempt to give a full description of Camp Lee, neither can I give in detail just what camp life is like. However, this is a brief schedule for one day.

5:45 a. m. get out of bed and dress. 6 a. m. reveille, that is fall in line for roll call; 6:10 police up around quarters. This consists of picking up cigarette stubs and paper outside of barracks. Then we have time to make up our beds and wash for breakfast by 9:30.

At 7:30 we line up and march to the drill field. We drill until 11:30 with rests at frequent intervals. Have dinner at 12 m. At 1 p. m. we assemble and drill until 4:30. Have retreat and inspection at 5 o'clock and supper at 5:15. The lights go out at 9:15 and we must be in our beds by 10:45.

There is other work to be done besides drilling, six men are appointed every day to work in the kitchen. They are known as kitchen police. Also six men for mess hall police. Their duty is to clean off the tables, sweep mess hall after each meal and sweep out barracks once a day.

The supply wagon must have men. This is called food detail. Then there is guard duty. The quarters are guarded all night both inside and out. It is the duty of the guard to stay on duty one hour and then wake the man who is to relieve him.

Possibly you want to know how we like army life. That is a difficult question to answer. Life here is altogether different from that which we were accustomed to living in our own homes. There is such a contrast in the surroundings and environments of one's life here that it was very hard to become accustomed to the change. However, we are becoming reconciled and like Camp Lee much better than at first.

The Y. M. C. A. is a home for the soldiers. There we find a good fire place and a real wood fires. There are also papers, magazines, stationery, tables, for writing, a stage for boxing and other amusements, and a piano about completes the list. There is usually someone in the crowd who is willing to play.

The weather here has been very cool but no snow yet. The general health of the boys is very good at this time, that is the boys of these barracks. Of the other boys I know very little at this time.

I wish to send my regards to the people of Pocahontas county and beg to remain very truly yours.

A. C. Young.

A. D. Williams of the State Road Commission was elected president of the Southern Appalachian Good Roads convention which met in Nashville last week. Williams, who returned to the city yesterday, said that he was proud of the honor that had been conferred upon him, and that he enjoyed the convention which was a great success. The next convention will be held at Asheville, North Carolina. Mr. Williams at first refused to accept the position, unless the convention adopted the resolution endorsing national-wide prohibition. This was afterwards done, and he accepted the office. Many resolutions were adopted at the meetings. Military roads were advocated, as was the proposition calling for the use of federal, state, county and municipal prisoners on the roads. Uniform state road laws and regulations were approved, and the construction of interstate highways and the maintenance of the roads of the country were enthusiastically adopted.—Charleston Gazette.

I. B. Shrader has sold his farm, the Sheldon Moore place, to E. C. Beverage, of Raywood. Mr. Shrader is in the market for a good farm and we hope he can find one that pleases him in Pocahontas.

Collection of garden seeds, J. A. Young.

The prize winners in the boys and girls contest will be announced later.

STATE NEWS

Fairmont.—The state of West Virginia has purchased the entire issues of bonds recently authorized by voters of Grant, Lincoln and Paw Paw districts of Marion county for good roads. The issue aggregated $1,175,000.

Bluefield.—Conductors and motormen on street railway here quit work after management of the Appalachian Power Co. refused their demands for higher wages. Cars were then manned by clerks and other employees.

Huntington.—An announcement is made of the appointment of Miss Anna M. Trimble, for the last seven years superintendent of nurses at a large hospital here, as secretary to the State Board of Examiners for Graduate Nurses.

Berkeley Springs.—A. D. Williams, state road commissioner, has appointed E. L. Miller, of this city, now county road engineer for Morgan county, as road supervisor for the district embracing Jefferson, Berkeley and Morgan counties.

Martinsburg.—Berkeley is one of the first counties in the state to follow the suggestion of the State Council of Defense and organize a county defense council. Its first work is that of promoting the sale of bonds of the Second Liberty Loan.

Clarksburg.—A local taxicab company began employing young women as chauffeurs owing to the scarcity of available males resulting from the military draft and war industrial work. Several young girls have already taken positions and are driving cars.

Clarksburg.—A passenger service by airplane, to be operated upon a set schedule is to be established between Clarksburg and Cincinnati, Ohio, by Dr. R. A. Stehley, of this city, he announced. The doctor, who is an experienced aviator, has ordered a passenger plane.

Fairmont.—Local merchants and manufacturers here turned to parcel post as a means of aiding them in the railroad freight congestion and car shortage here. Shipments that heretofore were received by freight and express are being divided where possible into small parcels and shipped by mail.

Morgantown.—The high cost of living has added another victory to its long list, namely, the hoboes' league of this city, the members of which decided to disband as the struggle seemed too one-sided. What money the league had in its treasury was turned over to the Associated Charities.

Point Pleasant.—An artificial navigation wave in the Ohio river, announced by United States engineers here as the largest wave yet produced and which carried down approximately 2,500,000 bushels of coal, was developed last Thursday. The wave released about 200 barges of coal from the Kanawha river.

Keyser.—Judge Francis M. Reynolds has refused to grant a new trial to Peter Weisenkopf, saloonkeeper of Westport, Md., convicted of murder in the second degree, following a trial, charging him with killing Sheriff Donald P. Davis, of Mineral county, and sentenced him to ten years in the penitentiary.

Clarksburg.—Authority to reopen the cases of selected men who have been certified for military service by the appellant draft board is not possessed by local boards, according to an opinion received by the Harrison county local board from Breckenridge Jones, of Charleston, chief of the state bureau of military census.

Wheeling.—W. H. Lewis, former cashier of the Merchants' National Bank of Clarksburg, was found guilty of violation of the banking laws before Federal Judge Dayton in the United States District Court. Lewis was convicted on two counts—one of abstracting $20,000 for his own use from the bank funds and on the other count of falsifying the bank's statements.

Parkersburg.—A new and sensational turn has been given to the movement for an air-tight Sunday inaugurated at a meeting of business men, by the announced determination of those who are in it to see that all work that comes within the purview of the statute, as they construe it, shall not be performed on next Sunday and succeeding Sundays, or, if it is, that warrants are to be issued for the workers.

THE CALF SHOW

In spite of the cold rain and mud, great interest was shown in the calf show last Friday, and the exhibits would be hard to beat anywhere. The thanks are due to S. B. Nethkin for his untiring efforts in promoting this show, and now that we have seen what it will mean to the main industry of the Greenbrier country, it is up to every citizen of the county to join in with Mr. Nethkin and the other members of the Pocahontas Cattle Club and boost.

The exhibitors were as follows—D. M. Callison, 8 cows, 8 calves, registered Herefords.

M. L. Beard, 8 cows, 8 calves, thoroughbred Herefords.

J. M. Cullip, 1 calf, grade Hereford.

Fred Buckman, cow and calf, Polled Angus.

Lanty McNeel, cow and calf, Short horn.

W. H. Barlow, 2 cows, 2 calves, 3 yearling heifers, Polled Angus.

Jacob Lightner, 3 calves, Short-horn.

A. C. Barlow, 2 cows, 2 calves, registered Hereford.

W. E. Poage, cow and calf, Short-horn.

J. A. Young, 1 calf, Hereford.

Uriah Hevener, 1 calf, Short-horn.

G. V. Hannah, 1 calf, Short-horn.

Prize winners were—W. H. Barlow, for county and Huntersville; G. V. Hannah for Greenbank; D. M. Callison for Levels and J. A. Young for Edray.

A number of sales at advantageous prices were reported. Buke Moore, of Mingo, purchased J. M. Cullip's calf; Isaac Barlow got one of A. C. Barlow's, and M. L. Beard got J. A. Young's prize winner.

TO GO NEXT TUESDAY

115	147	Robert Holden, Cass	75
147	150	Guy Stewart, Marlinton	1054
150	197	Rube Jackson, Marlinton	1022
197	243	Wm. Hitter Cashwell	1007
243	246	Wm. Walter Cashwell	1002
246	334	John Callan, Spruce	368
334	344	Claude L. Burrell Spruce	357
344	344	Harry Sink, Marlinton	1049

The German people in the fourth ward of the city are reported to have just subscribed $3,107.50 for an additional to defeat the Allies and us. The German language papers of the United States to the number of 442 are calling upon their fellow citizens of this country to subscribe to Liberty Bonds. Only 5 per cent of our people performed that patriotic duty in the first Liberty Loan. Have we of the "Colonies" forgotten the words of Patrick Henry? Must we again lose our liberties to find what they are worth? Bear in mind—After you have saved and pinched and bought your bond, you still have your money. The bond is money in the Bank of Uncle Sam.

The Women's Club held its first meeting at the home of Mrs. E. M. Arbogast October 13. Mrs. Andrew Price was named as delegate to the State Convention of Federated Women's Clubs at Charleston, with Mrs. F. M. Sydnor as alternate. Patriotism was the subject of the literary program. It was suggested that instead of refreshments being served at the meetings of the club, that a box of cakes, candies, etc., be made up for the soldier boys. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Ambrose on Friday night, October 26.

West Union.—The three-year-old child of Mr. and Mrs. Neil Himes, of Central, is believed to be seriously hurt as a result of the explosion of a cartridge with which it was playing. It is believed one eye is seriously affected and that the little one is otherwise injured.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Glenn Buckman announce the marriage of the daughter, Sarah Grace to Dr. Raymond B. Lockridge, on Wednesday, October 17, 1917, Staunton, Virginia.

County court was in session Tuesday with Commissioners McNeel and Arbogast on the bench.

James C. Lightner, of Bath county was in town Friday.

Mrs. James Strutch was here from Greenbank last week.

Somebody's Carelessness

is quite likely to blame for the burning of the many automobiles that are utterly ruined by catching fire. In most cases that somebody is not going to reimburse the owner for its loss, but the Aetna Insurance Co. will, however, if you will allow us to furnish you with one of our automobile Policies. It costs but a trifle and affords absolute protection against money loss.
